With a shudder he once again turned to the window. The sky was dotted with birds flying in a streamlined 'V'! They seemed to be hurrying, every one of them of one mind as if they had an important goal to pursue. It was that time of the year when the migratory birds were returning to their homes after a five - month warm sojourn. He remembered his childhood picnic with his parents to Vedanthangal, where he had seen flocks of birds nestled among the trees. Dad had hired a telescope to give him a closer view of the nest, where he saw tiny little nestlings-five of them! Dad had then told him that even though these families resided here, they would soon go back to their homes far in the cold regions of the planet. His father's words rang clear in his ears "You see Kumar, though they have stayed here for almost half a year and have enjoyed our climate and the food available, they know that their home is in the Arctic. And there's no place like home, is there?"

Kumar gazed at the flock flying home from where they had come. But slowly his vision blurred as tears filled his eyes. 'Home is where the heart is' Kumar thought, watching the birds till they were just specks on the distant horizon. Kumar left the room with a sure stride and a strong determination writ large on his countenance.

- i. What was the 'V' shaped formation seen by Kumar?
- ii. What did the flight remind him of ?
- iii. Describe what Kumar had seen amidst the trees while on his picnic.

No study of English can be complete without a reference dictionary of idioms. A very useful and easily available reference material is The Collins Dictionary of English Idioms. This dictionary contains clearly explained meanings of over three thousand common English idioms. To make the meaning even clearer, and to show you how the idiom can be used, each idiom is provided with a suitable sample sentence . In this dictionary, the emphasis is on 'true' idioms. These are expressions whose meanings cannot be easily worked out from the words they contain. The dictionary also provides a great many variations in the way these idioms are used. The main emphasis , however is on providing an understanding of the meaning of the idioms, rather than attempting to be a complete guide to idiomatic usage.

(50) Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow: (5 x 2 = 10)

Books are the greatest treasure of mankind, and the habit of reading them is the greatest source of pleasure. He who is in the habit of reading books should buy books for himself. Borrowed books do not give so much pleasure as the bought ones because in the case of borrowed books, the reader has to be very careful in handling them. The books which belong to the reader himself give a special pleasure because the reader has no worry in handling them and he has not to worry about their return. He who is interested in reading books should start collecting them in his youth. The books collected and arranged properly in a room not only decorate the room but also make the presence of their authors felt. The knowledge of the presence of the great personalities in the room is very inspiring and refreshing because they are always prepared to talk heart to heart with the reader. Books contain in them eternal truths and are better friends than those of flesh and blood as they not only entertain but also guide us.

Questions :

- (a) What is the precaution to be taken while handling borrowed books?
- (b) Why is one's own book a source of special pleasure?
- (c) Are books only adornments? Why do you say so?
- (d) How can you hold a conversation with great personalities?
- (e) In what way are books better than friends of flesh and blood?

(5) Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow:

5 x 1 = 5

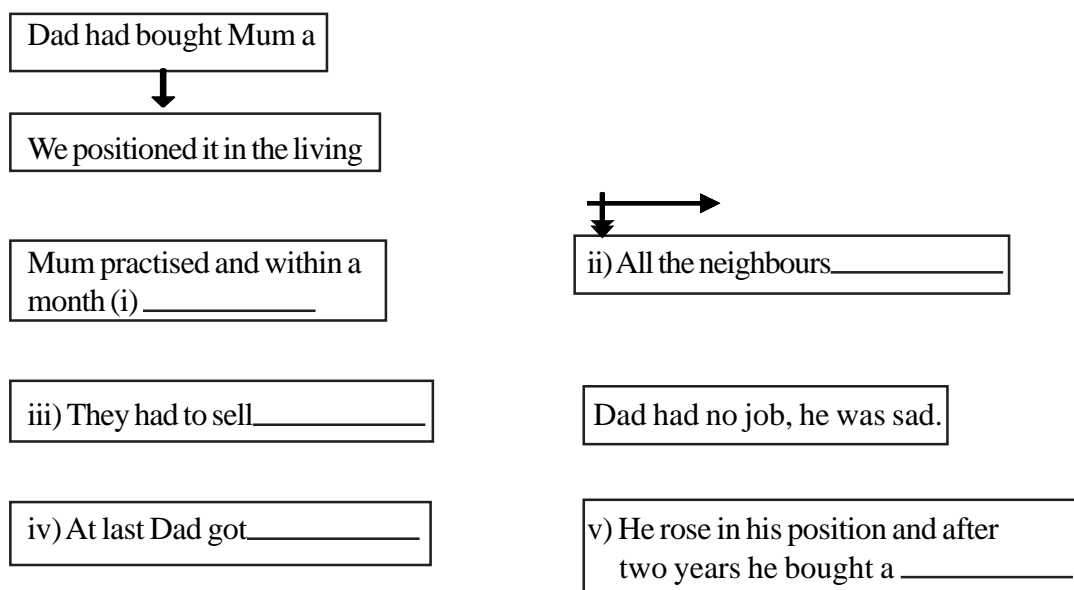

An old priest told me this story when I was very young. I have since wondered many times where it came from. No one has been able to tell me. Centuries ago a great artist was engaged to paint a mural for the Cathedral in a Sicilian town. The subject was the life of Jesus. For many years the artist laboured diligently, and finally the painting was finished except for the two most important figures; the Child Jesus and Judas Iscariot. He searched far and wide for models for those two figures. One day while walking in an old part of the city he came upon some children playing in the street. Among them was a twelve year old boy whose face stirred the painter's heart. It was the face of an angel-a very dirty one, perhaps, but the face he needed. The artist took the child home with him, and day after day the boy sat patiently until the face of the Child Jesus was finished. But the painter still found no one to serve as model for the portrait of Judas. For years, haunted by the fear that his masterpiece would remain unfinished, he continued his search.

Languages are of different kinds-spoken language, written language, sign language, code language, body language, Braille or language of the blind, and the more recent ones being the machine language and the computer language. Many languages have a long history. The Greeks, the Romans, the Egyptians, the Chinese and the Indians are among those, whose languages are centuries old. The number of languages used in verbal communication is extremely large. It is said that there are as many as 3500 identified languages throughout the world. Although this is true of the spoken language, the number of written languages is much lower, with one estimate placing it at not more than 500. Within a language there are sub-languages that are called dialects. A dialect is a form of speech peculiar to a district, class or persons. It is a subordinate variety of a language with distinguishable vocabulary, pronunciation or idioms.

PART - I

(50) Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow: (5 x 2 = 10)

Speech is a great blessing but it can also be a great curse, for while it helps us to make our intentions and desires known to others, it can also, if we use it carelessly, make our attitude completely misunderstood. A slip of the tongue, the use of an unusual word, or of an ambiguous word, may create an enemy where we had hoped to win a friend. Again, different classes of people use different words, and the ordinary speech of an educated man may create the impression to an uneducated listener that he was showing off with his skill : unwittingly, we may use a word which bears a different meaning to our listener from what it does to a man of his own class. Thus, speech is not a gift to use lightly without thought, but one which demands careful handling: Only a fool would express himself alike to all kinds and conditions of people and situations..

Questions:

1. In what way is speech a blessing to mankind?
2. Describe how words could make an enemy out of someone you would like to befriend.
3. Why is an educated man's speech considered boastful by an uneducated listener?
4. How should speech be used?
5. How does one prove himself a fool through his use of language ?

5) Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow: 5 x 1 = 5

My brother saddled up on his beast of an invention; put his bike helmet on along with his leather gloves. He threw his leg over the contraption and held his thumb up for contact just like in those old war movies where the guy on the ground spins the propeller of the plane. I gave him the thumbs up also and he pushed off to get the bike up to speed before throwing the switch. 'We have lifted off', I yelled! My brother put his hand down and threw the switch. The beast came to life and the bike hurried off into the distance. I tried to keep up with him, but the bike was much too fast. Standing there out of breath with my hands on my knees, I could see my brother was having a little trouble turning the bike around. He turned it sharply around the corner and disappeared around the block. When he reappeared minutes later he was headed straight for me at a high rate of speed. Tired as I was I had to run for my life to keep ahead of the invention. Darting through the double gate of the back yard I managed to escape under the clothes line to the back fence.

- i) What does the words ‘beast of an invention’ refer to?
- ii) In what way was the brother’s behavior like that of the character in the movie?

If you have a diabetic patient at home, there are chances that they might suffer from hypertension (high blood pressure), heart disease, vascular disease (small blood vessel disease), or kidney disease as well. The physician will treat these problems along with the diabetes. It is important to treat such complications as early as possible because a combination of high blood pressure, diabetes, and kidney disease is a triple threat to your health.

Many people, however, do not have any complications and can take actions recommended by their physicians concerning diet, exercise, medication in the form of pills instead of insulin injection, and good mental health. If you have non-insulin-dependent diabetes, it is possible that your diabetes may reverse itself and that your blood sugar levels return to normal and stay that way, particularly if you maintain good diet and exercise habits. Good diet, ideal weight, adequate exercise, adequate insulin availability and a stable mental attitude are the keys to treatment for diabetes.

PART - I

(50) Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow:

(5 x 2 = 10)

For foreign tourists, the best thing about visiting India was that one didn't have to break one's head deciding where to go. The choice of tourist sites was automatic and short: the Taj Mahal, the monuments of Delhi, the places of Jaipur and Udaipur, the bathing ghats of Varnasi. A few went to Kashmir and Goa. And the adventurous handful picked up their rucksacks to trek through the Himalayas. But that was about all. The rock-cut carvings of the South Indian temples, the forests of Madhya Pradesh and the sand dunes of Rajasthan - for most tourists this did not exist at all. Now the old whistle-stop tour image of India is in for a radical change. Through a series of expensive promotion campaigns, the Tourism Department is trumpeting India's countless glories: its golden beaches, its sanctuaries teeming with wildlife, its quiet hill stations and its Buddhist historical sites. As part of the hard sell, seminars are being organized to woo travel agents in the US and Europe. Food festivals are introducing Europeans to the mouth-watering delights of the Indian cuisine. And the Government has liberalized rules for hotels, air charters and other sectors of the tourism industry.

1. Why were foreign tourists attracted to India?
2. Mention some popular sites that interested foreign tourists.
3. What were the spots that failed to capture the attention of tourists?
4. Name some places that reveal India's glory.
5. In what way is the Indian Government trying to lure more tourists?

V B) Identify and correct the errors in the following sentences:

3. I have two sister-in-laws.
4. The sceneries was enchanting
5. Neither his parents nor Suresh know the truth.

V C) Look at the picture given below and answer the following questions in one or two sentences of your own:

(5 x 1 = 5)

1. What do you see in the picture?
2. What are the children doing?
3. How is this activity useful for children?
4. Why do schools give project work for students?
5. Give your opinion of your class project in a sentence.

Our blood consists of three types of blood cells: red blood cells, white blood cells and Platelets. The red blood cells are small, thin and disc shaped. They are composed of an iron containing component called haemoglobin. When blood passes through the lungs each haemoglobin molecule picks up four oxygen molecules and supplies them to the body's tissues. Red blood cells also transport the carbon dioxide from the tissues to the lungs. The lungs throw out this gas when we exhale. The white blood cells are big and few compared to red cells, numbering only one for every 700 red cells. They are the body's defenders, the soldiers that fight bacteria and other enemies. One kind, for instance, destroys dead cells. Other kinds produce antibodies against viruses. Some others consume and digest bacteria.

My sorrow passed – I paid him back
The gold he gave to me;
Then stood erect and spoke my thanks,
And blessed his charity,
I lay in grief and pain
A poor man passed my way;
He bound my head, he gave me bread,
He watched me night and day.
How shall I pay him back?*

For all he did to me?

Oh, gold is great, but greater far

Is heavenly sympathy.

PART - I

(50) Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow: 5 x 2 = 10

If there is one single factor responsible for the alarming raise in heart attacks among young seemingly healthy Indians, it is smoking. For patients younger than forty, smoking was the number one cause for heart disease. While the number of people who smoke has dropped by almost 40 percent in the West over the last decade, it has astonishingly doubled in India over the same period. Smoking a pack of cigarettes a day, makes you seven times more vulnerable to heart disease than a non- smoker.

The good news is that quitting the smoking can cut down the risk factor by a huge margin. A person who gives up smoking can, within a year, reduce the risk factor to that of a non-smoker.

Questions:

- (a) Why is smoking harmful to young and healthy people?
- (b) What is the change that has taken place in the West during the last decade?
- (c) What is the change that has taken place in India during the last decade?

I can remember like yesterday the day my father came home from the war. A flying officer during World War II, he was dressed in a blue uniform with a skinny, boat shaped cap plonked so precariously on the side of his head that I wondered why it never fell off.

A neighbour called out, “What’s the weather like up there?” as my giant-like father bounded by, carrying a battered brown suitcase, strapped together with a large leather belt. He was, without question, the tallest man I had ever seen.

As he walked up the front path of our home, he saw Mum and me standing on the veranda and he dropped the suitcase. The belt came undone and the contents spilled out onto the lawn.

8) Make notes of the following passage and Prepare a summary using the notes. 5 + 5 = 10

The necessity to preserve, transmit and propagate the rich cultural legacy left behind by the builders of music in the country in general and in Tamil Nadu in particular was felt in the years 1949. It was felt necessary that the inherited musical urge in our youngsters and the past tradition of our musical culture with its ancient purity could be well preserved only when opportunities have been provided to those who have an aptitude for learning music.

The Central and State Government with their financial aids established the Central College of Karnatic Music in August 1949. The college at first was at Rahmed Bagh' near Santhome and it was there for two years. Since the building could not accommodate all the sections, it was subsequently shifted to "Bridge House" at Adyar. Again owing to inadequate accommodation, the college was shifted from the "Bridge House| Adyar to 'Brodie Castle' on Greenways Road.

The college is functioning in the same building now, which has since been named as "Thendral" and has a strength of more than 600 students. In the beginning, there were only Vocal, Violin and Veena sections besides general Musicology. Candidates with a considerable standard in music alone, were admitted into the two year Sangeetha Vidwan Title course and after completion they were permitted to appear for the 'Sangeetha Vidwan' Title examination conducted by the Director of Government Examinations, Madras.
